U. S. SUSPENDS FOOD SHIPMENTS TO MARTINIQUE

Move Prompted by Stubborn Attitude of High Commissioner Robert.

REFUSES TO JOIN ALLIES

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles today announced that shipment of food to Martinique has been suspended.

Welles said no shipments of any food have been sent to the French West Indies since last November.

The acting secretary declined to disclose why the shipments had been suspended. In other quarters, it was learned that the move had been prompted by the stubborn attitude of Admiral George Robert, high commissioner of the French West Indies.

The French Admiral has refused to show any willingness to help in the liberation of France. He has refused to join either the Fighting French Movement of Gen. Charles DeGaulle or the French North African Forces of Gen. Henri Giraud.

He also has refused to make available to the United Nations a number of French merchant ships, including several tankers, which have been lying idle in French West Indies water for months.

In an accord reached with Admiral Robert in May, last year, the United States to help maintain the economic life of French West Indies provided the French warships in Martinique Harbor were immobilized and the French authorities there did not furnish any aid or comfort to the Axis.

Under the terms of the agreement the American Government released a certain amount of frozen French funds in this country to enable Admiral Robert to purchase food, oil and other needed supplies for French possessions under his command.

In view of the admiral's uncooperative attitude and the shortage of foodstuffs in this country, the state department decided to suspend partially the economic arrangement. It was felt that Robert should not be permitted to live in luxury in Martinique on supplies obtained in this country while the American people under work [illegible] in order to help liberate and feed his native country.

Curtailment of the American food shipments to Martinique does not mean starvation for the French

[illegible] TITLES [illegible]

Five of the Eight Clubs Already Selected for Invitation Cage Tourney.

New York, March 8 (AP)—Only two conference titles remain to be decided as basketball charges hit the final week of schedule play.

Along the Pacific Coast Southern California and the the University of Washington, winners in the Southern and Northern Divisions of the circuit, open their three-game title series at Seattle Friday night.

On the opposite shore both Dartmouth and Princeton remain in the race for the Eastern Intercollegiate League Flag although the New Hampshire outfit already is assured of a tie—the sixth straight year it has finished on top.

If Dartmouth wins one of its remaining games this week it will be undisputed king no matter what happens in the pair of frays left on the Princeton card.

But in other areas the post season tourneys with their added gold and glory already are the main topics.

Five of the eight clubs in the annual New York invitational already have been selected with Toledo University's all-freshman combine the latest to join the field. Others picked are Creighton, champion of the Missouri Valley; Rice, Co-champion with Texas in the southwest loop; Western Kentucky State and Fordham, Metropolitan champion.

St. John's of Brooklyn is the likely sixth contestant with the remaining two coming from Washington and Jefferson, Penn State, Depaul, Georgetown, Kentucky, Notre Dame and Duke, dethroned as the Southern Conference champion by George Washington's Colonials Saturday night, 56 to 40.

Dartmouth is the prospective National Collegiate representative from district one in the eastern playoffs late this month at the Garden with Manhattan College, New York University and Penn State all being considered from district two.

ARMORETTES TRIUMPH OVER HILLERS, 35-13

City Girls' Basketball League Leaders Stretch Winning Streak to Eight.

The Bethlehem Armorettes made it eight wins in a row by scoring a 35-13 victory over the Hillers of Fountain Hill in a City Girls' Basketball League contest Sunday evening on the Stevens School floor. After being to a 3-4 tally in the opening period the Armorettes broke loose in the second quarter to rack up 15 points to their opponents 4, to increase their advantage to 20-8 at the half-way mark.

The league leaders continued to dominate the play in the second half in which they outscored their rivals 5-5. By a peculiar coincidence, the Armorettes also scored 35 points per game against the Hillers in their two previous meetings. Tommy Banish and Peggy Domyan paced the winners with 13 and 10 points respectively, while Isabel Taylor with 6 and Grace Cressman with 5 did the bulk of the scoring for the losers.

Wounded on Tunisian Fighting Front Is Eager to Get Back Into Action.

BY JOHN B. HENRY

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

Recife, Brazil (Delayed)—While preparing to treat wounded soldiers returning from Africa battle fronts, the U. S. Army Medical Corps serving in Brazil today is engaged in a war against flies and mosquitoes.

Lieut. Col. George E. Leone, chief of army medicine in Brazil, said that tropical diseases, transmitted by insects, have been subjected to especial attention.

The soldiers stationed in this area are protected as much as possible, the physician said, against malaria, typhoid fever and dysentery.

Mosquito nets are draped over their beds and all barracks are fully screened. The water they drink is chlorinated.

Airplanes flying between Brazil and Africa and between points within Brazil are sprayed with insecticides before the cockpits are opened.

Mercersburg Academy Defends Team Crown; Gilman School, Baltimore, A Close Second

Crowning three individual champions ... points for place positions, a well balanced Mercersburg wrestling team successfully defended its ... annual Academy and Preparatory School ... Grace Hall at Lehigh University Saturday ...

Although Mercersburg won ... capture the laurels in a breeze ... sturdy and dangerous challenger ... which placed as many champions as did the winners but fell six or five points in the number accumulated by the winners. It was a close argument from the start of the preliminaries right up to the final bouts for place positions.

Mercersburg won the team title with 30 points followed by Gilman School with 25. Brooklyn Poly Prep, runnerup last year, was third with 15 points, followed by Blair Academy, 8; Shady Side of Pittsburgh, 7, and Wyoming Seminary 4.

The wrestling was on a par if not better than that in any previous tournament and with the entries in the majority much younger than heretofore, their masterful performance on the mat was surprising. Many falls were scored and in just as many bouts the advantage for decision was by the closest of margins.

It is singular to note that while Mercersburg prevailed for all of its titles in the lighter classes and Gilman took the crown in the heavier weight divisions, it was just the opposite in battling for place bouts. Gilman's defeated entries for the title in the final bouts won by Mercersburg Academy took the place ...
